

1. TITLE Technology, Ethics, and Therapeutic Service Delivery
2. PRESENTER Catherine Pearlman, PhD, LMSW
Adjunct Professor at Yeshiva University
Director of Admissions at Yeshiva University
Founder of The Family Coach
3. DESCRIPTION This experiential workshop will help participants expand their understanding of how technology may be helpful in the therapeutic process. Ethical issues that arise from such technology will be explored. Frameworks for evaluating the appropriateness of technology in practice and ways of resolving ethical issues relating to the use of cell phones, Facebook, cloud software, email, and therapeutic apps for cell phones like iphone will be presented.
4. OBJECTIVES Participants will:
 - A) Have a better understanding of the ethical issues that technology presents into the therapeutic relationship
 - B) Have ways of evaluating the benefits and costs for practice of each type of technology
 - C) Have methods to resolve ethical dilemmas that arise with regard to technology
5. DATE: March 30, 2012